

STORY OF SWANS DOWN

IN 1853, Levi Igleheart, at the age of thirty-three, finding farming to be discouraging, moved to the then little town of Evansville, Indiana, on the Ohio River and Etie Canal, and started a sawmill. He later took on the grinding of wheat grist. With this new enterprise, he was so successful that in 1856, his brothers, Asa and William (the latter leaving the farm and moving to town), established the firm of Igleheart Brothers, Millers. The business was run by Levi and William, while Asa followed the legal profession, later withdrawing from the firm. In 1892, the firm was incorporated, and William died soon after, leaving Levi and his three sons, Leslie, Addison, and John, to run the business. In 1896, Addison Igleheart found a means of making flour, which was of superior quality for cake making, and after ex menting and perfecting it, he began the manufacture an of this new_product called Swans Down Cake Flour.

Leslie, Addison, and John each have one son to whom: are gradually turning over the cares and jovs of Swans Do

Cake Flour. The business has grown from year to year and the capacit has been increased from a small mill on the Canal in 185 to a fine, modern plant of latest type of structure. Every care and precaution is taken to put out a superior product under the most sanitary conditions.

CAKE SECRETS

SPONGE CAKES

A Complete Description of What They Are

By Janet McKenzie Hill

EDITOR, AMERICAN COOKERY MAGAZINE

BOSTON, MASS.

How did you make that beautiful cake?

How often you hear this question asked at a luncheon or a dinner where delicious homemade cake is served. And although the hostess usually answers her guest in a general way, you'll notice she seldom tells those "Cake Secrets."

I will tell you her "Cake Secrets." It has taken me many years to find them out, and I wish every housewife to profit by my experiences.

First of all, remember there are only two kinds of cake—sponge cake and butter cake. Every cake is a variation of one of these two; every cake begins by being a sponge or a butter cake. Accordingly, I have made a division under these two headings in this book. The basic recipe for sponge cakes is on the opposite page, and its variations immediately after. Likewise, on page 8 is the basic recipe for plain butter cakes. From this basic recipe all butter cakes can be varied, as shown on the pages following recipe.

Learn to make these two fundamental cakes, the simple form of sponge cakes and that of butter cakes, and it is easy to make any variation of either.

Right here I want to call your attention to a fact which, in my opinion, is not generally understood—homemade cake is a real food. Bread has long been a synonym of food, and as cake is a refined, sweetened, and flavored bread, there is no question as to the place cake takes in the dietary. Generously represented in most cakes are the food elements from which our meals are chosen—the protein in eggs, milk, and flour, the carbohydrates in the flour and the sugar, the fats in the milk and butter, the minerals in the eggs and the milk.

Because of its high nutritive value, cake is most desirable at a meal that lacks hearty food in the form of meat or fat or their equivalents; but as sugar satisfies hunger almost instantly, cake should be eaten at the end of a meal.

For perfect cake, select only the choicest materials. Let the flour, the foundation of cake, be the best adapted for cake making. Some flours contain a large proportion of the elements essential to bread; others are better adapted to cake. Such a flour is found in Igleheart's Swans Down Cake Flour. With this flour as a foundation, and by following the recipes in this book, anyone can make a perfect cake.

Besides recipes for cakes, are included recipes for plain and French pastries in this book. Pastries, like cakes, require only good materials and a little care in the making to insure delicious results.

All recipes in this book call for level measurements unless otherwise stated.

REGULATION SPONGE CAKE

(No baking powder needed)

INGREDIENTS

ALL LEVEL MEASUREMENTS

5 eggs 1 cupful Igleheart's Swans Down 1 cupful granulated sugar Cake Flour

1/2 lemon, grated rind and juice 1/4 teaspoonful salt

UTENSILS

FOR REGULATION SPONGE CAKE AND ITS VARIATIONS

2 earthern mixing howls with round bottoms Egg beater, Dover

Slotted wooden spoon Lemon grater Measuring cup
Flour sifter
Patent sponge-cake pan or two layer-cake pans

Lemon squeezer

Wire whip METHOD OF MIXING AND BAKING

Assemble the ingredients and utensils.

Sift the flour before measuring; grate the lemon rind into the sugar; extract and measure the juice—there should be two tablespoonfuls.

Beat the yolks until light colored and thick, add lemon juice.

Beat the whites with wire whip until very light. Fold the sugar in carefully, then the egg yolks, and last the flour sifted with the salt. Do not beat or stir, but cut and fold.

To bake a sponge cake, divide the time into four quarters of 15 minutes each. At the end of the first quarter the cake should begin to rise; in the second quarter is should rise to full height and brown slightly; in the third quarter it should brown all over; in the fourth quarter it should finish baking and settle somewhat in the pan. The heat should be rather low (325°F.), until the cake has reached its full height, then increased for 15 minutes while browning (350-375°F.), then decreased until it is done. A broom straw inserted in the center of the cake should come out clean when the cake is done. Let the cake cool in the pan, inverted; in this way the moist cell walls are made firm while elongated, and the light, airy texture is maintained. Serve the cake by pulling it apart with two silver forks.

HOW TO MAKE SPONGE CAKES SUCCESSFULLY

(The first five paragraphs under heading of "How to Make Butter Cakes Successfully," on page 9, apply also to Sponge Cakes.)

In making a regulation, or true sponge cake, remember that beating and folding are the only motions used; to stir breaks down the bubbles of air incorporated into the mixture and occasions a heavy cake.

Small and layer cakes call for a hotter oven than thick cakes. Do not attempt to bake cakes of varying thickness or of different mixtures at the same time. The heat of the oven can be regulated to only one mixture and one thickness of batter at a time.

The appearance of the cake, in connection with the time it has been in the oven, is the only safe guide to its baking.

CHOCOLATE SPONGE CAKE (RECIPE PAGE 6)

If the fire is too hot, lower the heat; or place a baking tin containing hot water in the oven, but do not move the cake.

To retain lightness of a sponge cake, after baking turn pan upside down and allow cake to hang in pan until cool. (See bottom of page 9.) (Do not turn a butter cake upside down, nor remove from pan until 5 or 10 minutes after removal from oven.)

VARIATIONS OF SPONGE CAKE STRAWBERRY SPONGE CAKE

Bake Regulation Sponge Cake in two round layer-cake pans. Hull, wash, and drain two pint boxes of berries; cut them in halves; mix with 1½ cuptuls of sugar; let stand a short time, then use as a filling between and above the layers of cake.

NUT SPONGE CAKE

When folding the flour into Regulation Sponge Cake, fold in also about 1/2 cupful of finely chopped nut meats floured.

COCOANUT SPONGE CAKE

When folding the flour into Regulation Sponge Cake, fold in 1/2 cupful or more of finely grated cocoanut.

MOCHA CAKE

Bake the Regulation Sponge Cake in three layer-cake pans. Put the layers together with Mocha Frosting, also spread on the outside of the cake, then pipe it (in some regular pattern) with Mocha Frosting. See page 26.

SPONGE JELLY ROLL

Bake Regulation Sponge Cake in a large dripping pan; line the pan with a greased paper that hangs over the ends; turn the cake on a damp towel, and remove the paper, cut off the crisp edges, spread the cake with fruit jelly beaten smooth, roll and turn on a cake rack to cool.

BUTTER CAKES

REGULATION BUTTER CAKES

This is the simplest form of butter cakes, known as Plain IV hite Cake. If you have never made a butter cake, try this recipe first. From this recipe you can make a variety of butter cakes by adding any of the variations that follow, on page 10, or by using any of the Icings and Fillings on pages 24, 25, 26 and 27, or by baking in different shaped pans.

INGREDIENTS

ALL LEVEL MEASUREMENTS

1/2 cupful butter or substitute

3 egg whites 3/3 cupful milk

2 cupfuls S. D. Cake Flour 3 level teaspoonfuls baking powder

I teaspoonful flavoring extract

METHOD OF MAKING

FIRST MIXTURE: Beat or work the shortening with a slotted wooden spoon until it has a whitish appearance around the edges. Then gradually add the sugar to the shortening, beating the mixture meanwhile.

SECOND: Sift the flour, measure, add baking powder, and sift three times.

THERD: Beat the egg whites until very light and fluffy. Dry beaten egg whites make a dry cake. Use a wire whip, which leaves the eggs moist.

To the creamed shortening and sugar add alternately the 36 cupful of Now thoroughly beat the entire mixture until smooth. Add flavoring. Then fold in the egg whites (the third mixture above). Do this carefully with a wooden spoon, so as not to break down the air cells in the beaten egg whites.

Pour into a greased pan 8 x 8 x 2 inches. Bake in a moderate oven the ingredients best suited to the purpose in hand, i. e., cake flour, gs, finely granulated sugar, fresh spices, nuts, butter or oleomargate. Very successful cakes can be made with other shortenings instead of butter, but they do not taste quite so rich.

Measure all ingredients accurately; the "cooking-school cup" holds onehalf pint. Measure flour after once sifting, fill the cup with a spoon, and level off cup with a knife: do not pack the flour in cup.

Have pans ready and ingredients measured before beginning to mix the

Have the fire or heat in such a condition that the oven will be ready for use when the batter is mixed.

Be sure your egg beater is absolutely dry and clean before using.

Always work butter to a cream before adding any sugar to it. In cold weather jinse the bowl with hot water and wine dry before nutting the butter weather rinse the bowl with hot water and wipe dry before putting the butter into it.

The flour and milk should always be added alternately, beating hard after each addition.

The last motion in mixing a butter cake is to fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites.

Small and layer cakes call for a hotter oven than thick cakes. Do not attempt to bake cakes of varying thickness or of different mixtures at the same time. The heat of the oven can be regulated to only one mixture and one thickness of batter at a time.

Often you may know that a butter cake that has not been disturbed during baking is baked by the fact that it has separated from the sides of the pan.

A clean broom straw inserted in center of cake should come out without any particles adhering to it when cake is done.

The appearance of the cake, in connection with the time it has been in the oven, is the only safe guide to its baking.

A cake may be gently moved in the first and last quarters of time in baking; in the second and third quarters the cell walls are not firm, and a jar will cause them to settle. The warm, expanded air which makes the cake light has already been evolved, and there is nothing present to lighten it again.

If the fire is too hot, lower the heat; protect the cake with paper or a baking tin containing hot water, but do not move it. Open the oven door a reasonable number of times, but shut it gently.

Never jar or move a cake in the oven before it is thoroughly baked. This contracts the delicate, incompletely stiffened cell walls and occasions a "heavy" cake. See page 13 for "Causes of Cake Failures," "Oven Temperatures," "Cake Making at High Altitudes," etc.

CAKE MAKING AT HIGH ALTITUDES

For making cakes at high altitudes, use a little less shortening and sugar, or less baking powder. Add more flour; more eggs may also be used. Bake with less oven heat, time of baking the same.

CAUSES OF CAKE FAILURES

Heavy cakes are sometimes caused by too slow an oven, or by the use of too much sugar or shortening.

Coarse grained cakes are the result of too much leavening ingredients, too slow an oven, insufficient creaming of shortening and sugar, insufficient heating of batter before addition of egg whites.

Large holed angel cakes are occasioned by insufficient blending of the egg whites with the other ingredients; too little sugar or too fast an oven might produce such an effect.

When a cake "falls," it is occasioned by insufficient quantity of flour or rising ingredient, or from moving it in the oven after the cake has risen but before the cell walls have become fixed or firm by the heat.

A cake is "bready" and solid when too much flour has been used.

A cake presents an uneven surface and cracks open on the top when too much flour is used, or, more often, when too strong heat at first crusts over the top before the mixture has risen to its full height; later when the batter, heated throughout, rises, it bursts out at the weakest place, usually the top of the cake. If you should have any difficulties in cake making, write us fully, giving recipe and detailed experience, and we will try to help you.

Bake angel food or sponge cake in an ungreased pan. The batter will expand and stick to the side of the pan, making the cake higher and lighter. The cake must be cut from the pan, which should be of special construction to permit a knife to be inserted under the cake.

A heavy streak at the bottom of a cake is caused by using flour that is too fresh, by using too many egg yolks in proportion to other ingredients, or by baking cake in too slow an oven.

Proper utensils mean better cakes. See special utensil offer, page 36.

Pour gradually over 3 stiffly beaten egg whites, beating constantly meanwhile. Add slowly 3 squares of melted chocolate, then the vanilla, and beat until stiff enough to spread.

DECORATING CAKES

The process of forcing frosting or icing through a bag with tube attached, so as to trace a design upon the cake, is called piping. Only specially prepared icings can be used for piping. A frosted cake is decorated with piping alone; or colored sugars, citron, glace fruits, nuts, small candies, and fruit iellies are combined with the piping.

The utensils needed in decorating are few. A sieve with a very fine mesh, 28 holes to the linear inch, through which the dry sugar should always be passed, is of the utmost importance. For ornamental icing a round-bottomed bowl, a spatula, a slotted wooden spoon for mixing, and bags, with tubes for piping the mixture, are also essentials.

The bags for holding icing that is to be piped may be bought, or, at very slight expense, made at home. Copper tubes may be bought, in sets of 6 or 12, at a confectioner's or a large kitchen furnishing store. These afford shapes for large and small rounds, stars, leaves, ribbons, cords, and frills. The angle at which the bag is to be held while at work, depends upon the position of the surface to be decorated and the style of decoration. This is readily determined upon trial.

ORNAMENTAL ICING

4 egg whites
3½ cupfuls confectioner's sugar
(about)

1 teaspoonful cream of tartar, or tablespoonful lemon juice 1 teaspoonful vanilla

Beat the whites of the eggs with ¼ cupful sugar 3 or 4 minutes, then continue to add the same quantity of sugar, beating the same length of time, until half the sugar has been used; add the cream of tartar with the second quantity of sugar, or add the lemon juice gradually as the mixture thickens. Now continue adding the sugar, a spoonful at a time, heating several minutes between each addition, until a knife cut down into the frosting makes a "clean cut" that will not close again. The success attending the use of this icing depends much upon thorough beating between the additions of sugar. Particularly is this true of icing used for piping. This needs to be stiffer and tougher than that for merely covering a cake, and this condition is secured by the bearing rather than by the addition of sugar. Without beating, it will not hold its shape. This icing dries quickly, and, if it is not used as soon as finished, cover with a damp cloth and plate.

TABLE FOR COOKING ICINGS AND CANDIES

Soft Ball, 238°F. Hard Ball, 254°F. Small Crack, 290°F.

Hard Crack, 310°F. Caramel, 350°F.

A candy thermometer is useful to obtain correct degrees.

ORANGE CAKE (RECIPE PAGE 17)

PINEAPPLE FROSTING

To a cupful of crushed Hawaiian pineapple add a tablespoonful of lemon juice and enough sifted confectioner's sugar to make a frosting that will remain in place on the cake.

Stir together 2 tablespoonfuls strong black coffee (boiled), 2 tablespoonfuls cocoa (dry), 1/2 teaspoonful vanilla, and 1 cupful confectioner's sugar.

CARAMEL ICING

Cook 2 cupfuls light brown sugar with 1 cupful milk or water until it forms a soft ball when tried in cold water. Add 1 tablespoonful butter and 1 teaspoonful vanila; remove from fire, leave until cold, then beat until creamy. (Note: If the sugar curdles the milk, add a pinch of baking soda.)

COCOANUT ICING

Boil 134 cupfuls sugar and 34 cupful water until it spins a thread. Beat whites of 2 eggs un a ff; gradually pour syrup into egg, beating all the time. Add vanilla. Use 1 or 2 cupfuls grated cocoanut. Freshly grated, canned, or dried cocoanut can be used. Mix two-thirds of the cocoanut in the icing and sprinkle the balance of cocoanut over the cake after frosting.

MOCHA FROSTING

Cream 34 cupful butter, gradually beat in about 3 cupfuls confectioner's sugar, then strong black coffee, a few drops at a time, to tint and flavor as desired.

TWENTY-SIX TWENTY-SEVEN

Keep the hands or a wooden spoon and a mixing bowl for some minutes in very hot and then in very cold water. Use the above to work and wash 1/2 pound (1 cupful) of butter in very cold Water until pliable and smooth, pat into a rectangular shape rather less than 3,8 of an inch thick, take out 1/4, fold remainder in a cloth and set in a cool

Cut 1/4 of the butter into 2 cupfuls of Igleheart's Swans Down Cake Flow and 1/2 teaspoonful of salt, add cold water to make a dough and knead until

Pat and roll into a rectangular sheet rather more than twice the width and three times the length of the prepared butter.

Lay the butter lengthwise in the center of one side of the paste, fold the other side of the paste over the butter, and press the edges together. The butter is now enclosed. Fold one end of the paste over and the other end of the paste under the enclosed butter, evenly, and press the edges together

Turn the paste half way round that it may be rolled in a direction opposite to the first rolling; pat with the pin and roll out, keeping the layers even.

Fold the paste to make three layers, turn half way round, and again roll out. Rolling the paste, folding in three layers and turning half way round is called one turn. The pastry should be given six turns when it is ready for use as desired. The first rolling with butter is the first turn.

PATTY CASES

Puff-paste made of 1/2 pound each of Igleheart's Swans Down Cake Flour and butter will give 6 patty cases. Roll the pastry into a rectangular sheet wide enough to cut out 2 rounds with a French (fluted) patty cutter, and long enough to cut 6 rounds (12 pieces in all). Dip the cutter, each time before using, in boiling water; set 6 rounds (use spatula) in a pan lined with soft paper; cut the centers from the other six rounds to form rings; brush over the edge of the rounds with cold water, and set the rings in place; chill on ice 1/2 hour. Set into a hot oven (475°F.), reduce the heat as soon as the paste has risen to its full height; bake about 25 minutes. Protect with paper while baking, if needed. To use, fill with creamed chicken, fish, oysters, sweetbreads, vegetables, etc.

TARTS

Pile the trimmings from the patties one above another, to keep the layers in place, pat with the rolling pin and roll into a sheet about 1/2 inch thick. Cut in rounds or ovals and rings and put together and bake in the same manner as patty cases. When ready to serve, reheat and fill with fruit jelly.

CHOU-PASTE FOR ÉCLAIRS AND CREAM PUFFS

I cupful boiling water 1/2 cupful butter or substitute

1 cupful Swans Down Cake Flour 3 eggs

Set the water and shortening over the fire in a small saucepan; when boiling sift in the flour, cook and stir constantly until the mixture leaves the sides of the pan a smooth, compact mass. Turn into a mixing bowl, break in an egg and beat until the mixture is smooth; beat in the second egg, then the third egg. The eggs are added unbeaten. Shape (with two teaspoons) on a greased baking sheet in rounds for cream puffs, in strips 1 inch by 5 for éclairs. Bake in an oven, (450-475° F.) hot on the bottom, about 25 minutes. When done, a cake lifted in the hand will feel light. See page 24 for filling. With a sharp knife make a cut in each puff large enough to admit of Cream Filling, which can be forced in with a pastry bag and tube. Eclairs are sometimes covered with chocolate frosting.

STRAWBERRY TART

FOR 6 PERSONS

Cut out a round of puff or flaky paste about 7 inches in diameter; lay a white paper on a baking sheet and slide the pastry upon it; pipe a row of chou-paste on the edge of the round of paste and let bake until done (about 12 minutes). Pipe the rest of the chou-paste on a buttered baking sheet, using a star tube and making rosette shapes. Let bake until they feel light and dry. Stir a little boiling water into be cupful of confectioner's sugar. Set the round of pastry on a serving dish, dip the under side of the rosettes in the sugar paste, and press them on the chou-paste on the edge of the round; set these close together and entirely around the pastry. When ready to serve, fill with one or two baskets of strawberries, hulled, washed, cut in halves, and mixed with sugar. Decorate with whipped cream or a little confectioner's sugar. To serve, cut as a pie in triangular pieces. Let the berries stand mixed with the sugar half an hour or longer before using.
